

WHEAT RISES WITH BOND

Sensational Reports Cause Great Excitement in the Market.

BRIGHT COTTON PROSPECTS

Government Bulletin Still Dominant Influence in New York.

Bonds Firm.

(By Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Aug. 4.—The brilliant prospect for the cotton crop as revealed by yesterday's publication of the government estimate was the dominant influence in the stock market to-day, but this was somewhat offset by the news of the steady decline of the price of cotton itself, which served to arouse misgivings of damage to the cotton crop, and partly to the excited movement which developed in the wheat market. The latter was due to the receipt of alarmist reports from the Northwest as to the extent of the damage to the spring wheat, which served to offset the promise of the cotton crop. There was very little pressure to sell wheat, and a marked disposition to make speculative commitments, which resulted in a running down of the price of wheat to the point of indifference. It is not likely that confidence in the harvesting of a bumper crop will be maintained, except by much more will be indications of deterioration than were presented to-day. The upward bound in wheat quickly after the cotton crop was developed, and the disposition to make profits affected the cotton stocks as well. The effect of the maintenance of the Erie first preferred dividend had been discounted previously before its declaration. The action is of good effect on speculative sentiment, however, as it is of confidence in business revival, which it is to be justified. The closing was inanimate, but fairly steady.

The total value of the bonds, par value, $2,600,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

The total value of the stocks for the day was $2,800 shares.
